

Downloading Talking Books from BARD for Apple (Mac) Computer Users

1. Attach cartridge to Mac. It should become visible on the desktop and in the Finder. If it is an NLS cartridge and has never been used, the device name will be "NO NAME."

2. Select book. Download - save file.

3. The book should be on the desktop (unless you have saved it elsewhere). If not on the desktop, find the book via the Spotlight (the magnifying glass in the top right corner). Double click on the zip file and it will automatically unzip into a folder.

4. Open the folder (this opens a new “Finder” window). Select all files with Command (Apple key) + A.

5. Copy the selected files with Command (Apple key) + C

6. Paste files onto the cartridge (NO NAME in example) with Command (Apple key) + V
This will download the files to the cartridge. The cartridge can now be disconnected from the computer and inserted in the digital talking book player for listening.

7. If the patron has downloaded multiple books, repeat the process. There will be a message about overwriting existing files. Say Yes and Apply to all if this message pops up. (These are system files for the book to be read on the player; the patron should always accept the most recent files.)
